Abstracts
Abstracts. 1991;99:187-9; 284-5; 383-5
Activator appliances
Changes in mandibular length before, during, and after successful orthopedic correction of Class II malocclusions, using a functional appliance (DeVincenzo). 1991;99:241-57
Patient characteristics and treatment variables associated with apical root resorption during orthodontic treatment (Linge and Linge). 1991;99:35-43
A technique for measurement of intraoral lip pressures with lip bumper therapy (Soo and Moore). 1991;99:409-17
Temporal muscle activity during the first year of Class II, Division 1 malocclusion treatment with an activator (Ingervall and Thüer). 1991;99:361-8
Adenosine cyclic monophosphate
On the importance of cAMP and Ca++ in mandibular condylar growth and adaptation (Kantomaa and Hall). 1991;99:418-26
Admissions policies; see School admission criteria
Adolescence
Relationship between vertical dentofacial morphology and respiration in adolescents (Fields et al). 1991;99:147-54
Airway obstruction
Growth of the pharynx and its physiologic implications (Tourné). 1991;99:129-39
Sensitivity and specificity of diagnostic tests for impaired nasal respiration (Vig et al). 1991;99:354-60
Alloys
Bending properties of superelastic and nonsuperelastic nickel-titanium orthodontic wires (Khier et al). 1991;99:310-8
Japanese NiTi coils used to move molars distally (Gianelly et al). 1991;99:564-6 (Clin. corner)
American Association of Orthodontists
Preliminary program of ninety-first annual session, May 11-15, 1991. 1991;99:168-83
Arch
Crozat appliance therapy for an arch-length discrepancy problem (Parker). 1991;99:64-73 (Special article)
